Vocational School for Language and Integration

The vocational school for language and integration offers young people up to the age of 19 the opportunity to learn German in a one-year full-time program and to acquire basic knowledge of European culture. First steps into training and work are supported by practice-oriented lessons from Monday to Friday. Be part of it and shape your future!

Educational Objectives & Credentials

- Acquisition resp. advancement of German language skills
- Career orientation
- Preparation for a regular class or vocational training preparation

Entry Requirements

- Newly arrived teenagers up to the age of 19
- Students with an increased need for language support with at least nine years of school attendance

Perspectives

- Attendance of a mainstream class at the vocational college
- Start of a vocational training
- Attendance of a second year to obtain a secondary school leaving certificate

Important: Your compulsory schooling ends after one year of full-time schooling! The employment agency will then be responsible for you.
